

The King's University

Faculty Position: Chemistry

Academic rank: Assistant Professor (tenure track). Highly qualified candidates will be considered at higher rank.

Starting Salary: $62,929 and up. The University provides generous benefits.

Deadline: Application review process starts Oct 1, 2020. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Preferred Starting Date: June 1, 2021

Institutional Requirements: To be considered for appointment, the candidate must wholeheartedly endorse the Mission Statement and the Statement of Faith of the University (see <http://www.kingsu.ca/about-us/>). The successful candidate must demonstrate graduate level course work in the areas of teaching or related experience. A Ph.D. in chemistry is required. Candidates with post-doctoral experience are preferred.

Teaching Load: Four term courses or equivalent per year, including labs and seminars.

Particulars of the Position: The successful candidate should be able to teach courses in two of physical, inorganic, or analytical chemistry along with introductory chemistry and a desire to develop courses at new interfaces with chemistry. She or he will be required to work closely with other faculty to deliver courses and contribute to the interdisciplinary learning environment. The successful candidate will be committed to a faith-based approach to teaching and learning in the discipline and is expected to develop a program of scholarship. The faculty at The King's University are recognized for involving undergraduate students in their scholarship, with an expectation that faculty members will apply for external funding to support their research.

Appointment: Subject to budget approval.

The King's University is a Christian liberal arts university offering three and four-year Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of Commerce, a Bachelor of Music, and a two-year after-degree Bachelor of Education (Elementary and Secondary) accredited by the province of Alberta. The University is a member of Universities Canada and of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities. Faculty members at The King's University are eligible for and are currently receiving Tri-Council funding. The faculty at The King's University are recognized for involving undergraduate students in their scholarship, with some faculty members having obtained external funding.

Qualified candidates should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts and three letters of reference to:

Dr. Hank Bestman, Vice President Academic and Research
The King's University
9125 - 50 Street Edmonton, Alberta T6B 2H3
Phone: (780) 465-3500, ext. 8047
Fax: (780) 465-3534
E-mail: hank.bestman@kingsu.ca

Located on Treaty 6 territory

<http://www.kingsu.ca>

The King's University respects, appreciates and encourages diversity. We welcome applications from all qualified individuals including members of visible minorities, Indigenous, First Nations, Metis, and Inuit peoples and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.