

Human Physiology / Kinesiology

Academic Rank:

Assistant Professor (tenure track). Highly qualified candidates will be considered at higher rank.

Starting Salary:

$61,000 and up. The University provides generous benefits.

Deadline:

Application review process starts November 11, 2020. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Preferred Starting Date: July 1, 2021Institutional Requirements:

To be considered for appointment, the candidate must wholeheartedly endorse the Mission Statement and the Statement of Faith of the University (see <http://www.kingsu.ca/about-us/>). The successful candidate must demonstrate graduate level course work in the areas of teaching or related experience. A Ph.D. in a field related to human physiology or kinesiology (human health, physiology and/or anatomy, physical education) is required. Candidates with post- doctoral experience are preferred.

Teaching Load:

Four term courses or equivalent per year, including labs and seminars.

Particulars of the Position:

The successful candidate should be able to teach courses in Kinesiology, Human Anatomy and Physiology, Exercise Physiology, and Growth and Development. He or she will be required to work closely with other faculty to deliver courses and contribute to the interdisciplinary learning environment. The successful candidate will be committed to a faith-based approach to teaching and learning in the discipline and is expected to develop a program of scholarship. The faculty at The King's University are recognized for involving undergraduate students in their scholarship, with some faculty members having obtained external funding.

Appointment:

Subject to budget approval.

The King's University is a Christian liberal arts university offering three and four-year Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of Commerce, a Bachelor of Music, and a two-year after- degree Bachelor of Education (Elementary and Secondary) accredited by the province of Alberta. The University is a member of Universities Canada and of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities. Faculty members at The King's University are eligible for and are currently receiving Tri-Council funding.

Qualified candidates should send a letter of application and curriculum vitae to:

Human Resources
The King's University 9125 - 50 Street,
Edmonton, Alberta T6B 2H3
Fax: (780) 465-3534
E-mail: humanresources@kingsu.ca

Located on Treaty 6 Territory

www.kingsu.ca

In accordance with Canadian immigration regulations, this advertisement is addressed first to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. The University encourages all qualified female and male candidates, including visible minorities, to apply.