Sessional Instructor(s): Geography

Part-time

POSITION SUMMARY

The Faculty of Social Sciences at the King's University is seeking a sessional instructor(s) in Geography for the fall and winter terms of the 2022-23 of the academic year. Each course meets for 3 hours per week for lecture plus 3 hours per week for each lab section. We anticipate that these courses will be offered synchronously and in person at our campus in Edmonton. However, consideration will be given to offering some of them via remote learning.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

GEOG 201 (Physical Geography) – Lecture + 2 lab sections – Fall 2022

An introduction to the earth's major planetary components, including climate, river systems, glaciers, landforms, soils, and biogeography. The origins of these features and the processes that influence them are discussed with emphasis on applications in Canada, Alberta and Edmonton.

GEOG 350/450 (Geographical Information Systems) – taught simultaneously – Lecture + 1 lab section Winter 2023

An introduction to the principles and applications of GIS. Hands-on lab assignments focus on data input and manipulation, spatial problem solving, and map presentation using GIS software on micro-computers. Students complete a GIS-based project.

QUALIFICATIONS

- MA or PhD in Geography or related discipline
- Post-secondary teaching experience as either a principal instructor or a teaching assistant.
- Assent to the University's Christian Statement of Faith
