Sessional Instructors, Physical Geography and Geographical Information Systems

Part Time, Sessional

POSITION SUMMARY

The Faculty of Social Sciences and the department of Environmental Studies at the King's University is seeking sessional instructors for the following courses in the 2023-24 academic year. Each course meets for 3 hours per week, plus labs where indicated.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Fall 2023

GEOG 201 – Physical Geography

Lecture: Tuesday, Thursday 11am-12:20pm;

Labs Thursday 8am and Tuesday 12:30pm (Labs 3 hours each)

An introduction to the earth's major planetary components, including climate, river systems, glaciers, landforms, soils, and biogeography. The origins of these features and the processes that influence them are discussed with emphasis on applications in Canada, Alberta and Edmonton. Participation in weekly field-based labs and in a two-day, overnight field trip, usually in the latter part of September, are required.

Winter 2024

GEOG 350/450 – Geographical Information Systems

Lecture: Tuesday, Thursday 8am-9:20am;

Lab: Friday 2pm-5pm

An introduction to the principles and applications of GIS. Hands-on lab assignments focus on data input and manipulation, spatial problem solving, and map presentation using GIS software on micro-computers. Students complete a GIS-based project.

We anticipate that these courses will be offered synchronously and in person at our campus in Edmonton. However, under exceptional circumstances, other modes of delivery may be considered. When applying, please indicate whether you are available to teach synchronously and in person
