The King's University offers an exceptional liberal arts education from a Christian perspective. Located in Edmonton, Alberta, King's serves students from across Canada and around the world. Join a dedicated team who have a desire and common mission to see students grow in a dynamic and nurturing Christian environment. People who love working and succeed at King's serve God gladly, work collaboratively, think creatively, and embrace diversity.
.

Sessional Lab Instructor: Computing Science
Part-time

POSITION SUMMARY

The Faculty of Natural Sciences at the King's University is seeking a sessional lab instructor in Computing Science for the winter term of the 2024 - 25 academic year, The term runs from January 7th – April 29th, 2025. The labs meet 3 hours per week. These courses will be offered in person at our campus in Edmonton.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Computing Science 250 – Introduction to Computing Science
An overview of computing concepts and technologies. Topics include: the history of computing, computing hardware, operating systems, application software, networks, and a discussion of the role of computing and information technologies in society.
Labs are scheduled for Mondays, 2:00 – 5:00pm

QUALIFICATIONS
- BSc, MSc, or PhD in Computing Science or related discipline
- Post-secondary teaching experience as either a principal instructor or a teaching assistant.
- Assent to the University's Christian Statement of Faith

A condition of employment is assent to the University's Christian Statement of Faith found at:
https://www.kingsu.ca/about-us/careers

Position will remain open until a suitable candidate is found.
Apply by submitting a resume and cover letter through our online portal at kingsu.ca/about-us/careers.

Dr. Andrew Tappenden, Dean of Natural Science
The King's University
9125-50 Street, Edmonton, Alberta
T6B 2H3
E-mail: andrew.tappenden@kingsu.ca. Visit our web site at www.kingsu.ca.

We appreciate all applicants for considering The King's University as a potential employer, however, only those considered for an interview will be contacted.

The King's University respects, appreciates and encourages diversity. We welcome applications from all qualified individuals including members of visible minorities, Indigenous, First Nations, Metis, and Inuit peoples and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.