

The King's University offers an exceptional liberal arts education from a Christian perspective. Located in Edmonton, Alberta, King's serves students from across Canada and around the world. Join a dedicated team who have a desire and common mission to see students grow in a dynamic and nurturing Christian environment. People who love working and succeed at King's serve God gladly, work collaboratively, think creatively, and embrace diversity.

Faculty Position: Education

Tenure Track (Full Time)

POSITION SUMMARY

The Faculty of Education at The King's University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track appointment in our 2-year B.Ed. After Degree Program, beginning August 1, 2025. Our Christian identity leads us to see education as a professional vocation shaped by hope. Our Elementary and Secondary Education programs blend theory, reflective practice, engaging teaching, and extended student-teaching practicums to inspire students to teach from the heart and from who they are as people. Students are challenged to develop authentic connections between their faith and teaching practices. The emphasis on active learning prepares students for the realities of collaborating with colleagues in school settings.

Our education program consistently receives strong reviews from students for the quality of education, small class sizes, dedicated and expert faculty, and an opportunity to experience in-class teaching with the longest continuing practicum for an after-degree program in Alberta.

We are seeking a new colleague with an academic background suitable for teaching in one of these areas: exceptionalities and inclusive education, educational foundations, mathematics education, or secondary language arts. We are committed to encouraging students to engage critically with worldviews that shape education and to develop a conceptual framework for educational thinking and action which expresses their foundational beliefs about the meaning of human life, stewardship, and sustainability.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

The ideal candidates will bring with them a dedication to excellence in teaching and research with an academic background suitable for teaching in one of the areas listed above. They will have successful K-12 classroom teaching experience. An ability to teach curriculum studies or physical education would be an asset. Responsibilities include:

- Teaching the equivalent of 6 courses per year. (Supervision of student teaching is included in the teaching load.)
- Engagement in an on-going scholarly research program.
- Engagement in on-going service to the Faculty of Education and to the greater University community and external stakeholders.
- Creating connections and developing relationships with students and the greater K-12 school community.

The successful candidate will work with faculty colleagues in curriculum planning, co-teaching, and research. Supervision of student teachers is required of all education faculty members in this program.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a developing ability to articulate the connection between educational practice and the Christian faith. All Education faculty model how followers of Jesus Christ aim to enact the hope of being a transformative influence across a full range of educators' responsibilities for an equitable and sustainable future.

The successful candidate will be required to hold a Ph.D. or Ed.D. Candidates close to Ph.D./Ed.D. completion are encouraged to apply; the appointment will be contingent on completion by an agreed-upon date.

The King's University is a Christian liberal arts university offering three and four-year Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of Commerce, a Bachelor of Music, and a two-year after-degree Bachelor of Education (Elementary and Secondary) accredited by the province of Alberta. The University is a member of Universities Canada and of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities. Faculty members at The King's University are eligible for and are currently receiving Tri-Council funding.

A condition of employment is assent to the University's Christian Statement of Faith found at:

<https://www.kingsu.ca/about-us/careers>

The King's University follows a standardized salary grid. The salary range is $67,500 - $84,500/yr dependent on qualifications and experience. A comprehensive benefit package, pension, and generous vacation and time off are provided.

Position will remain open until a suitable candidate is found.

Apply by submitting a resume and cover letter through our online portal at kingsu.ca/about-us/careers.

Human Resources

The King's University
9125-50 Street, Edmonton, Alberta
T6B 2H3

E-mail: humanresources@kingsu.ca. Visit our web site at www.kingsu.ca.

We appreciate all applicants for considering The King's University as a potential employer, however, only those considered for an interview will be contacted.

The King's University respects, appreciates and encourages diversity. We welcome applications from all qualified individuals including members of visible minorities, Indigenous, First Nations, Metis, and Inuit peoples and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.